London calling

Hurray for Brown's Bride (brownsofashion.com), the fashionista's wedding shop of choice, which has secured exclusives from Delphine Manivet and Valentino.

Flower power

Camelions have made a comeback. They featured at Oscar de la Renta's SS11 show. SJP wore one as a corsage on the red carpet and Martha Stewart has been singing their praises.

Rent-a-celeb

The hot trend in Bollywood is to hire a celebrity guest to attend your wedding and pretend to know the family. Who needs friends when you could have Dane Bowers at your big day?

Copying Kate

QVC has just launched a "Princess simulated-sapphire ring" - a replica of Miss Middleton's sapphire-and-diamond sparkler - for a mere £35. Diamantés are a girl's best friend? We don't think so.

The £199 wedding

The Premier Inn's package includes a wedding dress, suit, cake and wine from Asda, a buffet for 20 guests, pyjamas from Primark and two nights at the hotel. A day to remember for all the wrong reasons.
